

"Where did you go?"

"I was in Arizona, New Mexico and the white men to be engaged in. If they want to fight they should pick out their equal. They can whip Indians with ease; they have nothing to fight with—no generals, and white men ought to be ashamed of bragging that they kill them."

McNamara had been talking on the street

It was reported, about killing Secretary of War William B. Blaine, and it was this that sent the Western Associated Press Agent on his track. In the talk with the Press Agent before being taken to the Government insane asylum, he denied that he had made any such remark. He said he was a friend of Secretary Blaine, and intended to make a social call on him.

One of the detectives said McNamara first said his mission was to kill Blaine, but subsequently mentioned Vice-President Arthur as the man who the spirits had commissioned him to kill. He said he out violent language at police headquarters and it was deemed safest to confine him in the asylum, as his mind was evidently in a condition that might make him dangerous. He should one of his many signatory impulses be to harm him.

Chief-of-Police Brock says: Washington seems to be a resort for insane people, and that they come with all sorts of crochets and fancies. The most rigid orders have been issued to the police to arrest all persons whose conduct warrants a suspicion of insanity. It is the purpose of the authorities hereafter to be exceedingly vigilant in watching over men of this kind, and especially to keep them away from high government officials.

CHICAGO.

What Was Going on Yesterday in the Great City by the Lake.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Very hot to-day. The thermometer reached 95°—about as hot as ever gets here.

The fire at 342 South Canal street to-night destroyed Demel's furniture upholstery & haberdashery store, valued at $40,000. Building, $2000. Both insured fully.

The finance committee of the North American Sengierfest to-night reported receipts amounting to $53,000; expenses, $70,000. The committee of leading associations having been paid out of the receipts, this is considered a very satisfactory result.

The Board of Trade and the Union Veterans Club have agreed on resolutions condemning in strong language the would-be assassin of President McKinley.

Guiteau, for his attempt on the life of President Garfield, and asking Secretaries of State to grant their condolence and sympathy to his grieving family.

At 10 a. m. Guiteau entered the thirty-ninth street car and firmly resolved to fast until Tuesday next, making forty-five days. This morning he walked to Lincoln Park and back, six miles. Weight, 1544 pounds, a loss of two pounds in one day, and 42½ pounds since the beginning of his fast. Temperature, 104; temperature of rectum, 96-7-10. He is more determined than vigorous. His eyes are dull and colorless and his mouth parched.

Evidence of Guiteau's dead-beatness is continually coming to light. Nearly every boarding-house-keeper in the city has a list against him; nearly every restaurant has discredit. The accumulation of evidence rather to the effect that he is an innuocent, utterly devoid of morality or decency, than that he is insane. Nobody ever suspected him of the atrocious actions to moral obliquity. He was hung in effigy at Flint, Michigan, with the hearty execration of the citizens who took part in the ceremony.

The churches of the West unite in this meeting of prayer, at the Union Park Church, for the relief of the President of President Garfield. As a result of the meeting the following was sent to-night:

Mrs. Garfield, Executive Mansion, Washington.

A body of Christian men and women, of various denominations, who are deeply concerned seems of the utmost importance to the nation have been assembled this evening in one of our churches, to pray for the relief of your stricken husband. In behalf of this meeting we send you our warmest sympathies, deep and tender sympathy which is felt with us in all Christian hearts at this trying hour. We pray that you may be preserved to us. To you and to us may God preserve and protect.

One of Guitau's Rencounters.
CINCINNATI, July 5.—Messrs. Reis Bros & Co., merchants of this city exhibit a letter received by them in August, 1870, from Charles J. Guitau, attorney-at-law, P. O. Box 100, St. Louis, Mo., in which he asks him to settle a claim of theirs for $275 against Max Epstein, of the firm of M. Haselberg & Co. He said Epstein could not be found, and that he had written him several times, but was willing to pay fifteen cents on the dollar, and that other claimants had agreed to do the same sum. The claim was sent him, but he had not been able to find Epstein. On the other hand, Reis Bros. & Co. ascertained that Guitau had settled with Epstein for one hundred dollars, and that he had not received anything. It was for this that a movement was made to disbar Guitau.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A meeting was held to-day in the interest of canals, when resolutions were adopted declaring it was the duty of the Legislature to immediately pass resolutions providing for the general election of the people to elect a new constitution, and article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the abolition of the vicious toll system was seriously threatening to destroy a large portion of the canal system, and a faithful effort on the part of our Representatives would be deemed an indication of the servility of both parties to the grasping railroad monopolies, and the necessity for a new party whose watchword would be the protection of the rights of the masses against the privileged few.

Will Get an American Trial.

LOUDESTON, Pa., July 5.—Robert Brown and John Lennon, connected with a murder at this place several years ago, for which Lennon was discharged, returned from a five-year term in the penitentiary to-day in connection with the man who was charged with the murder.

Denver and Rio Grande Railway
DENVER, July 5.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railway company has contracted the grading of its short line from a point on its main line seventeen miles south of Denver to the south fork of the Platte river, on the water grade extension from Denver to the plains, and in the valley of the Arkansas. A large force is being put on the work, so it is to be pushed vigorously.

Extensive Woolen Mill Burned
SPRINGFIELD, MASS., July 5.—P. Blackton & Co.'s woolen mill, at Maple Grove, Adams, Massachusetts, burned. Loss on building and machinery, $100,000; insurance about $50,000. Loss on the stock of Co. Black & Co. $100,000. $20,000, a half interest. One hundred and twenty workmen are thrown out of work.

Stove Foundry Burned.
KEYSTONE, July 5.—The stove works of Shantz & Keely, at St. City, destroyed the morning here, by fire. The loss is estimated at $100,000; partly insured. Several slightly injured.

An Indians Duel.
NEW ALBANY, July 5.—Two Indians, Willis and Robert Prunett, living miles west of the city, agreed to settle a quarrel by fighting. The actual combat commenced by emptying their revolvers each other. Willis was dangerously wounded. Prunett is unhurt.

Death of a Noted Turfman.
LOUISVILLE, July 5.—H. P. McGraw, well-known turfman, died at the Central at 2 o'clock this morning. He gained a reputation as a turfman, and resided about the bedside. His remains will be taken to Kentucky for interment.

A Majority for Caution.
ALBANY, July 5.—It is reported that the vote of Albany is in favor of a caucus for a Republican caucus, and that such notice will be given in the convention.
